Miss Me But Please Let Me Go

When I have made it to the end of this road and the sun has set for me, I don't want the room to be filled with gloom, Why cry for a soul that is pain free! Miss me if you may, but not too long, and especially not with your head hanging low. Remember the fun we had and the love we shared, Miss me but let me go. This is a journey that we all must take, and we each must go alone; It's all in the plan of the Master, A step on the road to our eternal home. When you feel lonely and sad in your heart, take a trip to a friend you hold dear, And bury your feelings in doing something good.

Miss me if you must but let me go.
